About the Book

The Bridges Our Earth Collection is a beautiful and thought-provoking collection of poetry by John Seed. The poems in this collection explore the interconnectedness of all living things, and the importance of protecting the natural world. Seed's writing is lyrical and evocative, and his poems are sure to resonate with readers of all ages.

The collection is divided into four sections:

* Earth: Poems that celebrate the beauty and diversity of the natural world. * Water: Poems that explore the importance of water to life, and the threats that it faces. * Air: Poems that remind us of the importance of clean air, and the challenges we face in protecting it. * Fire: Poems that explore the power of fire, and the role it plays in the natural world.

About the Author

John Seed is an internationally renowned environmentalist and poet. He is the founder of the Rainforest Information Centre and the Deep Ecology movement. Seed has spent his life working to protect the natural world, and his poetry reflects his deep love and concern for the planet.

Reviews

“Seed's poetry is a powerful reminder of the beauty and fragility of our planet. His words are a call to action, and they inspire us to protect the natural world for future generations.” — Bill McKibben, author of Eearth

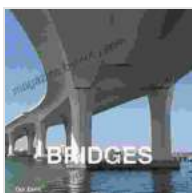

“John Seed is a true poet of the natural world. His poems are full of beauty, insight, and wisdom. The Bridges Our Earth Collection is a must-read for anyone who cares about the planet.” — David Suzuki, environmentalist and broadcaster
